

Happy Holidays!

Atlanta Hospital Hospitality House believes that by providing lodging, meals and companionship we will improve the health and welfare of the families who have traveled to Atlanta for its world-class medical care. The holiday season can be a particularly difficult time for families when a loved one is hospitalized. The families we serve are financially fragile, hungry and exhausted. Our services directly improve how a family navigates their medical crisis. In 2009 we will serve over 4,000 accommodations. There are many ways for you to give this holiday season:

The Angel Project

Individual Angel: honor or memorialize a loved one by purchasing an Angel for an AHHH guest. To purchase your angel, please fill out the form below.

The Angel Project Gift Box: New this year is the Angel Project gift box. Angels designed by a local artist come packaged 30 in a box and can be hung on a tree, displayed in an office or classroom. By participating in The Angel Project, an individual or organization is committing to "sell" each angel for $20, thus each box is worth a $500 donation. The Angel Project is a great way for organizations, clubs, churches, businesses and classrooms to participate. To get started, please call 404-377-6333 or send an email to melissa@atlhhh.org to order your box.

Adopt-A-Day

Each day the cost for the AHHH to serve all our guests is $500. You may choose to adopt a day for $500 or a half a day for $250 and a quarter of a day for $125. Honor someone on his or her special day and we will place their name on our Adopt-a-Day calendar for our guests to see. The Adopt-A-Day calendar will also be published in our Annual Report.

Did You Know?

- The AHHH (the main house) occupies a beautiful Druid Hills mansion built in 1926 by Cator Woolford, founder of Equifax. The house was renovated by AHHH in 2004 and many original assets from the 1920's are now restored.
- We are the only facility of our kind in the Atlanta area that serves anyone with a need regardless of which medical facility refers them or what kind of medical issue they may have. Among the medical conditions facing our guests and their family members are cardiovascular problems, cancer, tuberculosis, transplants, autism and many others. The average length of stay is eight days; the range is one day to several months.
- We serve 20 regional medical facilities primarily Emory University Hospitals, the Veterans Administration Hospital, Kindred Hospital and the Marcus Autism Center. Only 6% of our operating budget is donated by hospitals. The other 94% of our budget has to be raised by the AHHH.
- In 2008 we served over 4,000 accommodations and meals averaging 15 guests per night. We have served more than 100,000 guests since 1981 who have traveled from all over the U.S. and 39 different countries. In 2009 we increased our capacity to 25 guests.
- Every night at 7:00 p.m. we serve a home cooked meal to the guests of the AHHH. We pride ourselves in providing a "home away from home" in a comfortable and safe environment.
- In 2009 the AHHH built an Earthcraft designated Home Depot Marcus Hospitality Cottage in the footprint of the original dollhouse that Cator Woolford built for his daughters. The Cottage houses eight additional guests, mainly from the Marcus Autism Center and those who are handicapped.
- In 2010 we will begin renovating the AHHH's main house kitchen. Each year we serve over 4,000 meals. The kitchen will enable us to accommodate additional guests as we continue to grow.
- We have to raise $250,000 per year to operate the Atlanta Hospital Hospitality House and the new Home Depot Marcus Hospitality Cottage.
